Our college interns 2008

“While 2008 ended on a sour economic note for the nation, it was a good year for the Foundation. The fourth quarter is always an important period for nonprofit donations, and we were thrilled with and grateful for your loyal support. Because our board and staff didn’t overextend ourselves in the bubble years, we’re in a solid financial position now. With the continued support of our wonderful members and the hard work of our dedicated staff and board, we’re looking forward to another effective year of conservation in 2009. Our investments in natural resource conservation are long-term and of immeasurable value – in spite of the economy!”

–Mark C. Ackelson, INHF president
