

Western Prairie Fringed Orchid
Platanthera praeclara

The western prairie fringed orchid is rare, in Iowa and across the U.S. Not only is the plant beautiful to view, it also has a pleasant smell which is strongest at night when the moths that pollinate the plant are active.

Iowa
Natural Heritage
Foundation